Commissioner Marcia Hovey-Wright commented that the money from the trust fund at the state level is from oil and gas money. It is not government money in any way. The total cost of acquisition will be done by the owner and the grant from the state. The parks will also provide minimal maintenance through park funds.

Commissioner Zach Lahring commented that the idea that the grant money is not tax dollars is absurd. Kruze Park was brought up. If you want to see how the park is in disrepair, go out there. The other parks are in disarray. We can't manage the parks that we have.
